

WOMEN'S LEADERSHIP

Learning Series

This leadership program provides a unique and much-needed forum for emerging and top talent women leaders to openly discuss and address key challenges, share insights and experiences, solidify bonds, and develop meaningful alliances, mentorship and sponsorship relationships that are highly beneficial to career success.

The Women's Leadership Learning Series (WLLS) focuses on helping talented engaged women step into their leadership more fully and find new solutions to their key challenges so they may grow personally and professionally throughout their careers and attain their highest levels of engagement and productivity.

The WLLS is a rigorous conversation that coaches women leaders and emerging talent to break through the glass ceiling of their own potential. The series will provide inspiration, insights, learning and practical proven strategies to implement immediately to help women grow themselves and their leadership to the next level.

How will it work: A 10 session series to be delivered over a period 12-18 months , held approximately once a month excluding July, August and December. Learning sessions are an hour in length, attendees participate live on a virtual platform and are recorded for future listening and learning.
