

LINDA M. PIATELLI, CPLP

- Corporate Trainer and Consultant
- Certified Professional in Learning and Performance
- Professional Development
- Performance Management

Linda Piatelli is an experienced corporate trainer and consultant specializing in training development, delivery, facilitation, and needs assessment. Linda has been developing and facilitating custom training programs designed to help organizations improve productivity and manage their employee's personal and professional growth since 1994.

Linda's areas of expertise are in the areas of leadership, management performance, communication, team building, interviewing skills, work life balance and managing time and stress to improve productivity and performance. Her experience spans a variety of industries including biotech, high tech, insurance, hospitality, retail, and manufacturing.

Linda comes from a unique background with over 12 years of practical experience as a technical professional and project manager in the environmental industry and seven years experience as a human resources training consultant with a respected employee assistance program provider. Her technical background and hands on business experience enable Linda to design and facilitate practical training programs that effectively respond to the needs of professionals in the workplace.

Recent clients include: Selective Insurance, Amica Insurance, Genzyme Corporation, Sepracor, Inc., Dyax Corporation, Bose Corporation, Cubist Pharmaceuticals, Textron, Inc., NSTAR, Suffolk Construction, Boston Communications Group, Inc., and LoJack Corporation.

Linda received an MS degree from the University of Vermont and is a member of the American Society of Training and Development (ASTD). She is an ASTD Certified Professional in Learning and Performance (CPLP) and is also certified in the DISC Personal Profile System and Predictive Index.